Article Processing Charges (APCs) on F1000Research are based on article type. Charges are payable once the article has been accepted for publication. A full explanation of the price transparency breakdown for the article type categories is available here.

WHAT WE DO NEXT

Before accepting your article: we will check content suitability, readability and manuscript format; adherence to ethical standards for the type of study; that the underlying data have been supplied (where appropriate); and that there is sufficient detail to enable others to replicate the study (if applicable).

Before publishing your article: if we accept your article, we will be in touch as soon as possible with any issues that need addressing. You will then receive a final proof of your article for approval, prior to publication.

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO NEXT

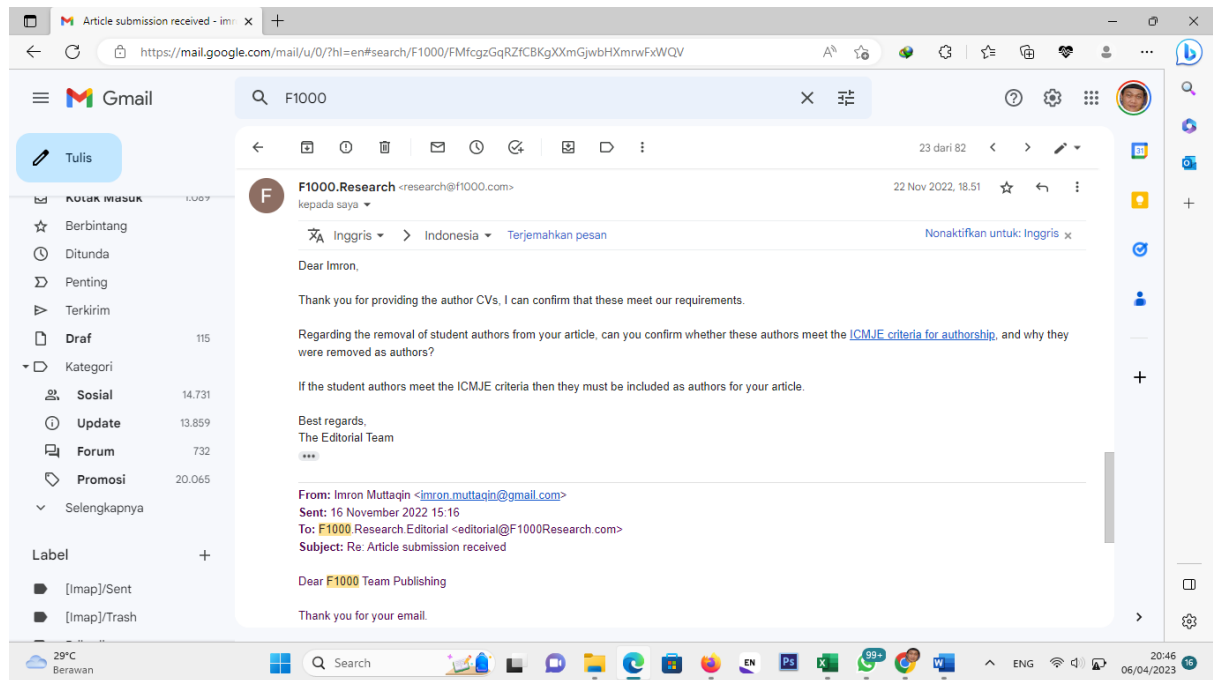

Before doing anything else, we need you to suggest at least 5 suitable reviewers to peer review your manuscript following publication (in accordance with our publishing model), should it be accepted. We ask that authors do not contact reviewers directly about the peer review process. We will need your reviewer suggestions before we can publish the article so we recommend identifying them now via your Suggest Reviewers page for this article. You can also access this page via the article's record at My Research >> Submissions.

Please quote the article number 128502 in any correspondence.

Kind regards

The F1000Research Team

Press releasing articles: Please avoid promoting articles in the media until the article has passed the open peer review process. Promotion on social media is encouraged once the article has been published; please ensure the full citation is included, as this contains the peer review status. F1000Research should be cited as the source of these articles with a link to the article.

Dear Imron,

Thank you for providing the author CVs, I can confirm that these meet our requirements.

Regarding the removal of student authors from your article, can you confirm whether these authors meet the ICMJE criteria for authorship, and why they were removed as authors?

If the student authors meet the ICMJE criteria then they must be included as authors for your article.

Best regards,
The Editorial Team
